

ABSTRACT

A communications system has, a base station (40) and an inter-working gateway (48) for operating two-way wireless Internet communications over a Universal Mobile Telecommunications System (UMTS) communications network. The Internet communications are segmented and multiplexed into framing protocol-protocol data units (FP-PDUs) to operate over the UMTS communications network.

5